

Contents

List of figures	v	5.2 Managing organization and stakeholder change	161
List of tables	vii	5.3 Stakeholder management	173
OGC's foreword	viii	6 Organizing for Service Transition	177
Chief Architect's foreword	ix	6.1 Generic roles	179
Preface	xi	6.2 Organizational context for transitioning a service	179
Acknowledgements	xii	6.3 Organization models to support Service Transition	181
1 Introduction	1	6.4 Service Transition relationship with other lifecycle stages	189
1.1 Overview	3	7 Technology considerations	191
1.2 Context	3	7.1 Knowledge management tools	193
1.3 Goal and scope of Service Transition	7	7.2 Collaboration	194
1.4 Usage	7	7.3 Configuration Management system	194
2 Service Management as a practice	11	8 Implementing Service Transition	197
2.1 What is Service Management?	13	8.1 Stages of introducing Service Transition	199
2.2 What are services?	13	9 Challenges, critical success factors and risks	203
2.3 Functions and processes across the lifecycle	14	9.1 Challenges	205
2.4 Service Transition fundamentals	16	9.2 Critical success factors	205
3 Service Transition principles	21	9.3 Risks	206
3.1 Principles supporting Service Transition	23	9.4 Service Transition under difficult conditions	206
3.2 Policies for Service Transition	24	Afterword	209
4 Service Transition processes	33	Appendix A: Description of asset types	213
4.1 Transition planning and support	35	Further information	217
4.2 Change Management	42	References	219
4.3 Service asset and configuration management	65	Glossary	221
4.4 Release and deployment management	84	Acronyms list	223
4.5 Service validation and testing	115	Definitions list	225
4.6 Evaluation	138	Index	251
4.7 Knowledge management	145
5 Service Transition common operation activities	155
5.1 Managing communications and commitment	157

